Two Omaha World-Herald writers win national awards

Omaha World-Herald, March 31, 2018

A pair of World-Herald sports writers received first-place awards in this year's Associated Press Sports Editors Contest, an annual competition that selects the best in sports journalism from newspapers across the U.S.

APSE judges last month recognized 10 winners per category. A second panel met later to rank the finalists.

Dirk Chatelain won the top honor in the category of project reporting for his "Campus Rush" series, focusing on the pressure placed on teenage girls being recruited by major college programs.

Sam McKewon shared first place in the breaking news category for his coverage of Nebraska's hiring of Scott Frost, specifically his story on how Bill Moos, Tom Osborne and Matt Davison worked together to bring Frost back to his alma mater.

The World-Herald also produced three writers in the top 10 of the feature writing category. Chatelain placed fourth for his story on a pair of Burke High seniors who as young parents learned hard lessons about grief, strength and growing up. Chris Heady placed sixth for his story on Nebraska record-breaker Stanley Morgan. Evan Bland placed ninth for his profile of Nebraska's new athletic director.

Free access to all Newspaper in Education Institute curriculum, NIE resources

All newspapers are now welcome to access all NIE Institute curriculum and NIE department resources for FREE. Doug Alexander, President of the NIE Institute recently retired and he wants all the resources used to benefit NIE programs and their teachers. The site is not customized like it is for subscribers.

The curriculum website address is:

www.nieteacher.org

You and your teachers may access over 340 instructional resources on the curriculum website plus video/audio teacher training and serial stories & features pages (that can be run in-paper over several weeks).

Just click on any resource and it will download or open, whichever the computer is set for. Doug recommends that you make a link on your NIE, e-edition, or other online pages to this curriculum page and send the web address out in all your teacher communications (e-mail, newsletters, etc.)

Besides providing these resources through the website, here are other ways to use the resources.

- E-mail the resource or the link to teachers
- Use resources as a multi-unit in-paper serial
- Use portions for in-paper NIE or editorial features or pages

The Institute invested thousands of dollars to develop and purchase these resources. Please put them to good use!

NIE Department Resources and information about the NIE Institute at:
www.nieinstitute.org

Fundraising is a major part of NIE. More than ever newspapers are focused on the bottom line. NIE is expected to help that effort. To help you do that, download the Compilation of Fundraising Ideas. It also includes a list of events throughout the year with supplements that may offer sponsorship opportunities.

Delegation represents Nebraska Press Association at NNA's Community Newspaper Leadership Summit, March 14-15, in Washington, D.C.

More than 60 newspapers attended the NNA Leadership Summit in Washington, D.C., to learn about the issues affecting their businesses and meet with their congressional leaders to seek their support. In addition to legislative briefings and the meetings on Capitol Hill, attendees met with old friends and new and gathered for a special dinner at the National Press Club.

Following a group meeting at the Newseum, a D.C. museum dedicated specifically to media, the Nebraska delegation spent a full day on Capitol Hill meeting face-to-face with Nebraska senators and representatives, including Sen. Deb Fischer and her staff; the staff of Sen. Ben Sasse; Congressman Jeff Fortenberry; and Congressman Don Bacon's staff. The delegation was unable to meet with Congressman Adrian Smith.

Two important issues discussed were the impact on the newspaper industry from a 22 percent tariff on newsprint that is imported into the U.S. from Canada, and the ever-problematic postal service and mail delivery.

The Summit included an opening event at Gallup headquarters and dinner at the National Press Club with a speech from nationally renowned journalist Lally Weymouth Graham, who shared the story of her career with the Washington Post. Her parents, Katharine Graham and Philip Graham, both served as publishers of The Post.
