

Newspapers find creative ways to promote first issue of Kid Scoop News!

Teachers at both Elgin schools posted photos (above & below) on Twitter & Facebook of their students reading Kid Scoop News.

Fun, educational resource to help kids love to learn and read.

Kid Scoop News

Morgan presented the inaugural copies to (above) St. Boniface principal Lisa Schumacher and (bottom right) Elgin Public principal Greg Wernhoff (l) and Superintendent Mike Brockhaus (r). Lower photo right after receiving them from teacher Jan Starman.

The Elgin Review, Nebraska Press Association and anonymous family charitable donation will be providing Kid Scoop News to Elgin Public and St. Boniface third, fourth and fifth grade classrooms. The monthly publication features educational news-type stories and games such as a find-a-words, word scrambles, mazes and much more!

Pictured, upper left: Elgin Public's third grade class showing off their Kid Scoops to teacher Krista Eisenhauer (taking the photo). Elgin Review co-publisher Lynell

Elgin Review, Sept. 22, 2021

Another West Point News Scoop!

Starting this month, West Point News, the Nebraska Press Association & other community newspapers in Nebraska are bringing Kid Scoop News to third, fourth & fifth graders in Northeast & North Central Nebraska.

The best news is that the once-a-month publication comes at no cost to the schools!

Community newspapers have always been Nebraska's most trusted source of local news and we are excited to continue that tradition by helping to bringing Kid Scoop News to the next generation of readers.

Students at Summerland Public School Summerland Advocate-Messenger, Sept. 23, 2021

Display ad - West Point News, Sept. 22, 2021