

Information from photographer, Jeremy Buss, about the sports photo balls, shown at the Saturday (4/27) Convention Great Idea Exchange:

Since the Friday and Saturday NPA Convention Sessions, I hope everyone has had a chance to let all the new ideas and connections sink in and you are off and running.

If you were in the Saturday morning Great Idea Exchange you saw examples of some sports photo balls I have done and as promised here is the information.

The site for the balls is <https://www.makeaball.com/>

When you register make sure to register as a PARTNER to get the wholesale pricing. Until you are approved all you will see is the retail pricing. Once registered you can get templates etc. I have always designed my own and have not paid them to do so.

The site for clipping photos is <https://purephotos.app>

You can get your first 100 for free and after that it is $.15 cents an image, I have had very good luck with them. After you drag and drop your photos, depending on volume and complexity the files are ready to download 5-10 minutes later. I have personally met reps of the company and recommend them.

If you have any questions or issues with either of these, please feel free to reach out, I am happy to help and answer any questions. The same if you are interested in making the photo balls, I am happy to answer questions, and if you want to go a step further I'd be happy to work with you on design and getting the projects set up. You can reach me at jeremy@bussphotography.com.
